Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

1. It should be noted that the last Office action is mailed by a mistake. Applicant should disregard the last action. The following office action will replace the last Office action. The examiner regrets any inconvenience to Applicant.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The applied reference has a common Ricoh Company, Ltd with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Art Unit: 2622

Claims 43 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fukuoka (US 6,300,976).

With regard to claim 43, Fukuoka discloses in Fig. 1-6, a digital image capture device that comprises the digital camera having a function for transaction of image data and control data with an external image forming apparatus (digital camera 30 can perform transactions between camera 30 and external devices such as printers or computers via I/O card 15, col. 2, line 49 and col. 7, lines 15-65), comprising a picture information input means for inputting picture information required in an image forming apparatus (operating portion 21 working in combination with CPU 23 to select appropriate I/O functions of the external devices so as to transmit image data to the external devices, col. 7, lines 38-65), picture information memory means for storing therein the input picture information (control program storing area 51, col. 7, line 42), a converting/sending means for converting image data to be sent to said image forming apparatus to image data adapted to said image forming apparatus according to the picture information stored in said picture information memory means, and sending the converted image data (CPU 23 converts and sends image data in accordance with I/O data that requires for each external device, col. 7, lines 47-65).

With regard to claim 44, claim 44 recites what was discussed with respect to claim 43.
